Subject: Formal Comment Regarding the Shortage of FDA-Approved Tirzepatide Injection Products

Dear Commissioner Califf, Ms. Jensen, and Dr. Bormel:

On behalf of the Alliance for Pharmacy Compounding, I am writing to express our continued concerns regarding the October removal of tirzepatide from the FDA's drug shortage list and the significant impact it will have on patient access. Since our previous correspondence, we have gathered updated monthly dispensing data from forty compounding pharmacies, representing only a fraction of compounders preparing these medications.

These forty pharmacies collectively dispensed 125,000 compounded tirzepatide prescriptions over the past month, underscoring the critical role that compounded tirzepatide has played in addressing gaps in patient care during this shortage.

This data clearly demonstrates the ongoing unmet demand for FDA-approved tirzepatide, which compounded products are currently filling to support patient care. As the FDA works to stabilize the supply chain for FDA-approved medications, we urgently ask the agency to:

1. Reinstate tirzepatide on the FDA drug shortage list, which would allow 503A pharmacies and 503B outsourcing facilities to continue to compound copies of these medications, or
2. Permit compounded products to remain available under enforcement discretion until the FDA-approved supply is sufficient to meet patient needs, and
3. Ensure transparency in communications with the pharmacy community about anticipated timelines for resolving shortages.

We also request a dialogue to discuss the implications of the shortage list removal, as well as broader issues surrounding drug shortages. Recent screenshots from wholesalers, attached to this letter, indicate persistent limited availability of tirzepatide despite incremental improvements in the supply chain.

The data we have provided highlights a clear and urgent need for action to safeguard patient access to essential therapies. We ask the FDA to acknowledge these ongoing shortages and allow compounding to continue until such a time as FDA-approved products are fully available to meet demand.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. APC remains committed to collaborating with the agency to ensure patients receive uninterrupted access to essential medications.

Sincerely,

Tenille Davis, PharmD, RPh, BCSCP, FAPC
